Future Monster Delivered Here Via Parcel Post

Shades of antediluvia — or, a postman's lot is not always ringing doorbells. Postoffice employees lead a varied life, and the variety usually comes in packages. Thus, came a package on April 19, marked special handling, via parcel post, which was placed with care in the hands of Campbell Post Office for delivery to a local resident.

Through the screened sides of the box, from its bed of shredded paper, a live baby alligator gazed forth benignly upon the startled crew. That is, they thought it was an alligator, or possibly a crocodile, too small to bear the smile of the lady inside, for it was only a foot long.

Postmaster Ira H. Grim pointed out that the stamp on the box bore mute evidence of postal efficiency, for the package was mailed in Shreveport, Louisiana, April 17, and arrived here two days later.

Although this is the first time a live alligator (or crocodile) has been accommodated at the local post office, it's practically a run of the mill occurrence to receive live turtles and queen bees. Turtles usually come in an ordinary cardboard box, says Grim, while the queen bees arrive in boxes fitted with screened sides.

Family Unit Is Most Important, Rotary Learns

"The Family and Family Relationships" were discussed by Dr. Bertha Mason at the meeting of the Campbell Rotary Club Monday noon in the IOOF Hall. The family is the most important unit of society, she told her listeners, and it is within this unit that the child must be taught consideration of others and his responsibilities as a member of civilized society. Here, too, the child must be given a sense of security and confidence, she stated.

Within the family unit, said Dr. Mason, the father is the power behind the throne, for he is the family's means of support. She emphasized the responsibility of the father to his children, and the need for the father to take a greater role in the home life and the instruction of his children. The father must teach his son the facts about sex relationships, she said, otherwise the son will receive his sex education through less desirable channels. Although the schools have an important role in the education of the child, the knowledge and background which he receives through his participation in the life of the family is a valuable factor in his development and future.

During the Rotary meeting, delegates to the 155th district annual conference held Friday and Saturday in San Francisco, gave reports on the convention highlights. Delegates were Les Harmon, Bill Maderis and Forrest Reese.

Harmon and Maderis reported that Bill Williams of San Jose, was elected district governor for the new term. Basic theme of the conference was "Service," and was emphasized in discussion groups and general conference addresses. Aid to boys through establishment of boys' clubs in every community was urged.

CAMBRIAN BRANCH POSTOFFICE OPENS MAY 1; GRIM ASKS NEW SERVICES

Cambrian Village Branch of the Campbell postoffice will be established by May 1, Campbell Postmaster Ira H. Grimm announced today. Clerk in charge will be Ruby Streight. The branch will be located at 625 S. San Jose-Los Gatos Road in the Cambrian Appliance Store.

In addition to the Cambrian Branch, other evidences of the growth of the Campbell Post Office business were revealed by Postmaster Grimm. Beginning July 1, mail will be received and dispatched from the Campbell Post Office on Sundays.

Postmaster Grimm has also requested permission from Washington, D. C., to establish two city deliveries daily. One delivery is being made at the present time. Special delivery service will be established on an hourly pay basis as of July 1, instead of the .09 cents per letter now being paid the special delivery messenger.

A later mail dispatch from the Campbell office has also been requested, Grimm said. At present, 4:30 p.m. is the last evening dispatch.

On July 1, 1950, the Campbell Post Office will be advanced from second to first class.

In order to relieve the rural carriers, Grimm has requested that all territory east of Leigh Avenue now being served by the Campbell Post Office be transferred to the San Jose delivery.

Fabric Center Has Bight New Sign

A new and attractive sign, in gay colors, has been painted on the side wall of the Fabric Center, 48 E. Campbell Avenue. The pictures include bright drapes and slip covers and the sign features "Quality fabrics for every sewing need." Another sign has a picture of a sewing machine.

Dudley Herschbach Wins Scholarship With 'A' Average

A $1000 scholarship to Stanford University for the academic year 1950-51 was awarded Dudley Herschbach, Campbell High School senior, on the basis of academic standing.

Herschbach's teachers point to his A average throughout high school as testimony that he will be able to use the scholarship throughout his four years of college. The scholarship is renewable yearly upon successful completion of the year's work.

Herschbach, who will be 18 in June, plans to study science and mathematics, but has not decided on a definite career yet. He is a seabearer in the California Scholarship Federation, was student manager of the high school student body, and president of the senior class.

Active in sports, he was a three-year member of the football squad having served as co-captain of last season's team, and was named on both SCVAL All-Valley and 20-30 Club All-County teams. He also is on basketball and tennis teams. Herschbach could have received a scholarship on a basis of athletics, but chose one in which academic rating was the criterion.

He is an Eagle Scout, a member of Campbell Explorer Post 2, Senior Scouts, and is an active member of the Student Bond Campaign Committee organized to promote the forthcoming high school bond election.

The oldest of six children, he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Herschbach, 201 W. Rincon Avenue. He is a graduate of Moreland Grammar School.

Billy High Enlists

Billy Mac High, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Thurman High, 680 Crockett Avenue, Campbell, recently was accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Navy, according to Robert E. Walker, recruiter, U. S. Navy.

Upon his enlistment he was transferred to the Recruit Training Station, San Diego.

Billy attended Almaden Union Grammar School and Campbell Union High School.

Postmasters' Quarterly Conclave Here Tomorrow

Quarterly meeting of the postmasters of the Eighth Congressional District will be held Saturday, April 29, at 1:30 p.m. at the Campbell Country Woman's club house, First and Campbell avenues, Campbell. Luncheon will be served.

In addition to various important matters, the Postmaster General's recent orders regarding the curtailment of mail delivery service will be discussed.

New Sign At Local Church

An attractive new sign has been erected in front of the Congregational Church on North Central Avenue. It is of rustic character, made of two-inch redwood planks about three by four feet, supported by heavy redwood posts and wrought iron work. The letters, "THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH OF CAMPBELL" are deeply carved and lined with gold-leaf yellow paint, making the sign very easy to read.

A group of men have been working on the sign in their spare time. Among them were Walter Stray, Tom Jensen, Walter Adams, Oswald Mikkelsen, and Harry Smith.

EDITORIAL

This week, throughout California, public schools, teachers, pupils and parents have been observing the thirty-first annual Public Schools Week. Here in Campbell many a parent who visited his children's classrooms and talked with the teachers had a twofold purpose.

Yes, the parent talked over his child's study problems with the teacher, but he also looked for something else—the evidence that his child was receiving the best education and educational environment afforded under our democratic system.

Certainly a large part of that evidence must consist of intangibles. Environment is made of a number of things: a child's fellow students, their attitudes and backgrounds, the teachers and their knowledge and ability to teach, the quality of textbooks and other facilities, and the child's own background and abilities reflected against these other factors. There is, however, another factor, that of Quantity—how much room for how many—for there are far too many, now, in Campbell Union High School, so many that a wartime term which means limiting is being revived—this time limiting your sons and daughters in their education. The word is "ration." Rationing is underway in Campbell High School. It will increase as time goes by.

During the war there were waiting lines for food and other commodities. You had to have the right ticket to buy meat and staples. Elsewhere, long lines formed at clothing counters, each person in the queue hoping the supply would not be exhausted before he stepped up to the counter.

At Campbell High School, the waiting lines are growing. These lines are students waiting for possible vacancies in classes which must provide them with the essential knowledge for business careers, mechanical careers, homemaking careers.

You can end this rationing. It doesn't require a powerful army, or a peace treaty, simply one little gesture on the part of each voter in the high school district on May 16. The gesture is a "YES" vote to approve a $950,000 bond issue which will provide 37 more classrooms, an additional school site, equipment for new facilities, home economics rooms, music building, girls' gymnasium, school cafeteria, shops, and a swimming pool, the latter to be made available to the community during the summer recreation programs.

The cost to the average taxpayer will be approximately $8 per year, or 25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for 25 years.

The need is urgent, for Campbell is receiving a large share of the greatest migration in the history of the United States, the migration to California. The present school is overcrowded. It was built for a 700-student capacity. The enrollment is now 1000. By 1954, the expected enrollment is 1693—by 1958, 2207.

THE PRESS RECOMMENDS A "YES" VOTE ON MAY 16.

DAYLIGHT SAVING STARTS SUNDAY

Daylight Saving Time starts on Sunday, April 30, in California, so don't forget to set your clock ahead one hour before turning in Saturday night.

The daylight saving time measure on the November ballot was approved by the state's voters, and will be in effect from April 30 to September 24.

Although the new time shift will be used by most offices and firms throughout the state, Southern Pacific Railroad will continue to operate all its passenger trains on Standard Time, as required by federal law, according to Fred E. Watson, general passenger agent for the railroad's central district.

For public convenience, most of the SP trains operating entirely in California will have schedules one hour earlier than at present, Watson said. All SP trains operating between California and other states will hold to present schedules on Standard Time, operating one hour later by the clock on Daylight Time, and all of the company's station clocks will show Standard Time.

Minor changes will be made in the schedules of the "Starlights," and the "West Coast."

Slum Housing Area In Campbell Cited As One of Worst

Despite a blush for civic pride in Campbell, Norman A. Stoner yesterday admitted that the slum housing area along Los Gatos Creek was "a constant health menace" and is one of the "worst spots" in the county.

Reviewing a preliminary county survey which revealed 21 sub-standard housing areas in Santa Clara County and underscored the need of the county wide housing conference called for May 6 at the San Jose civic auditorium, the Campbell attorney made the following statement:

"The tents and other sub-standard housing along Los Gatos Creek in Campbell is one of the worst spots in the housing picture in Santa Clara County. The very limited community sanitary facilities are a constant health menace. The need for substitution of proper housing in this area should be clear to all Campbell residents."

Mrs. Josephine Duveneck, housing conference chairman, reports a growing broad endorsement of the conference by not only most of the county's labor groups but by many concerned educators, ministers and business men.

Vacancies Few, Waiting Lists Long For Essential Courses At High School Due To Increasing Enrollment Overload

Just as the "Bicycle Built for Two" was limited in its seating capacity, so is a school house limited by a pre-determined capacity. The capacity is determined when the schoolhouse is built, and the schoolhouse serves its purpose adequately just so long as the capacity is not exceeded. You can't overload a schoolhouse and expect to achieve satisfactory results, anymore than four people can ride efficiently on a tandem built for two.

Campbell High School pupils have learned their abc's of capacity enrollment through firsthand experience this year, and parents whose children have had to sign up on the waiting list for overcrowded classes in typing, home economics and shop courses, have learned, too.

Campbell has been hit by a tidal wave of immigration, and its effect upon the district's schools has been to load them far beyond the established capacity. At Campbell High School, the present overcrowding of 1000 pupils in an area built for a limit of 700, is nothing to what the situation will be in four years, even less.

While every elementary school in the district is struggling with overburdened classroom facilities, Campbell High School's staff has been tallying up those elementary school enrollments with considerable concern, for it stands to receive the entire burden over the next few years. The graduating elementary school students must continue their schooling at Campbell High.

If the population were to remain as it is today, and no more students dropped out or enrolled, the high school enrollment would be 1599 within two years. By 1957, the enrollment would be 2453.

From all indications, based on studies of the migration to date, plus determining factors for the future, the population of Santa Clara County and Campbell will continue to receive more than its share of the postwar California influx. Subdivisions will continue to be developed as long as this migration continues. Campbell schools will continue to increase their enrollments. Thus, parents of pre-school and elementary school children have an even greater concern in the future of Campbell High School, that do those parents of the present high school students.

Crowding affects teaching abilities and impairs study facilities. Too many pupils in a class can limit learning abilities, and classroom participation.

As for the school's staff, they are working hard to maintain the high school's creditable standing as an educational institution, in the face of mounting obstacles created by the overload of students. Organizations and individuals throughout the district are lining up in support of the school board's proposal to meet present and future enrollment needs with a bond issue which would provide new classrooms and an additional building site.

The $950,000 bond issue will be presented to the district voters on Tuesday, May 16. A two-thirds vote is necessary to carry the measure.

Better schools increase property values. Adequate educational facilities for youngsters are important factors which prospective home builders and home buyers consider in selecting locations for their homes.

As an area expands, the schools must keep pace with the development. Campbell has fine schools, but they are operating beyond the maximum of their facilities. Due to the overcrowding, pupils attend school in two shifts. Classroom periods are utilized above accepted standards, as are pupil stations, and the faculty has taken advantage of every recommended technique to increase utilization of the school plant.

The school plant is crowded now, but the crowd will be greater next year, a greater number the following year; thus, it is essential that the district embark on its long range expansion program at once. The May 16 bond issue is the means to this end.

Campbell Vets Discuss New Post

A third meeting to discuss the establishment of a Campbell post of Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held tonight (Friday, April 28) at 8 p.m. in Campbell Country Woman's Club.

Speaker will be Robert E. Murray, District Deputy Chief of Staff, north, Department of California.

Plans to obtain Post colors, future meetings, and an auxiliary unit for the group will be discussed. Committee members expect actual organization of the post to take place in another month.

Temporary chairman is Alfred L. Lord.

Cambrian School $42,000 Bond Issue Would Provide More Equipment For Its Cafeteria And Playground

Rapid growth of Cambrian Elementary School during the past five years has forced its board of trustees to seek financial aid from the state. This aid is available if the school district completes requirements established by the state by bonding itself to the legal maximum capacity.

In order to meet this regulation, the Cambrian District voters will be presented a proposal for a $42,000 bond issue at the scheduled school board election May 19. The district at the present time is not bonded to its capacity. It is $42,000 short of the limit, and it is this amount which the board seeks for a bond issue to qualify the school for funds to complete the master plan of school construction.

These funds will be spent for items not covered by state funds, such as school and cafeteria furniture and equipment, playground equipment, bus garage and architect's fees for the master plan.

The school equipment was originally purchased for an enrollment of 150 pupils. Present enrollment is 575. Each month new enrollment makes the problem more acute. Equipment is needed for cafeteria use. The cafeteria serves over 300 daily and is a vital part of the school program.

Bonds would be retired over a 21 year period. The cost to the taxpayer would be small, due to the fact that only two bonds of $1000 each would be retired each year. This amount will spread over the entire district's assessed valuation.

LOS GATOS-1252-W

This is the architect's drawing for the new Christian Science Sunday School building on which construction was begun this month adjacent to the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Los Gatos, 238 E. MRS. CARRIE L. THOMPSON HONORED ON 90TH BIRTHDAY

An open house held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cowdery, 80 N. Second Street, marked the observance of the ninetieth birthday of Mrs. Carrie L. Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Cowdery are her brother-in-law and sister.

Mrs. Thompson came here from Ohio three years ago with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Blair, with whom she resides at 11 Charnier Avenue. She has taken an active interest in community life and regularly attends the Methodist Church and circle meetings of the Women's Society for Christian Service.

Mrs. Thompson is a life member of the Order of the Eastern Star at Hartford, Ohio, and frequently attends the Campbell Chapter meetings with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. In addition to her many organization and church activities, she finds time to reside in the kitchen of the Blair home on baking day when she prepares tempting homemade breads for the family table.

A happy event on her birthday, which was Saturday, was the birth of a great-grandson, Richard Gregg Thompson. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne B. Thompson of Fewtrell Drive.

Last Sunday, after attending church services in the morning, Mrs. Thompson dined at the Cowdery home. For the open house she selected a gray dress which she had made herself. Her costume was accented by a corsage presented by Mr. and Mrs. R. Lewis Brown.

We can supply the raw materials and the plans for your proposed new house. The wisest investment one can make is that of a new, modern, livable home. Let us talk the matter over with you.

Old Age Repealer Law Suit Report On CISW Agenda

Latest developments in the law suit filed in the Superior Court at San Francisco to set aside Proposition No. 2, the pension repeal measure, will be reported at a meeting of members of the California Institute of Social Welfare and their friends on Wednesday, May 3, at 10:30 a.m. in the IOOF hall.

The suit, filed by Attorney David K. Watkins, 78, of San Francisco, was brought by three San Franciscans who were thrown off the pension rolls because they were under 65 years of age. They previously had qualified under Proposition 4, but had their pensions taken away with its repeal.

Since the filing of the suit, Robert W. Kenny of Los Angeles, former attorney general, offered to join Watkins as a friend of the court and as counsel for the California Institute. Kenny filed a brief with Superior Judge Theresa Meikel of San Francisco and asked the court to declare unconstitutional the provisions of Proposition 2 disqualifying the 63-to-65-year-olds and restrain Governor Earl Warren from depriving them of their pensions.

The meeting here, at which all phases of the suit will be discussed, is open to the public. There will be no admission charge.

Western Auto Co. Dealer Planning Future Here

D. L. "Red" Beltz was on hand to greet customers visiting his new store in Campbell when Gambles Western Auto Supply Company held its grand opening at 50 E. Campbell Avenue last weekend. This store is the latest addition to Campbell's expanding, modern shopping area, and Beltz is rightly proud of the attractive establishment which he manages.

Mr. and Mrs. Beltz have resided in Campbell for three years and have a son, John Robert, 15 mos. old. They are building a new home on San Tomas Road in the 730 block.

Beltz, known as "Red" due to his shock of obviously carrot-colored hair, was with a San Jose hardware firm for two years. He plans to join the Kiwanis Club. Mrs. Beltz is a member of the Campbell - Saratoga - Los Gatos branch, American Association of University Women.

Asked why he chose Campbell to begin a business career on his own, "Red" stated he sees a definite future for business development here. "Campbell is becoming one of the modern business sections in this part of the valley. It is a growing community and I want to be a part of it, to serve the community and to grow with it."

Located at the corner of Fourth and Campbell Avenues, the store has a floor area of 30x70 feet, and, with its modern fixtures and equipment, is one of the most modern in the valley.

It is part of the new commercial building recently completed. Also occupying the store are Tommy Blackburn's Campbell Floral Shop and O. Johns, Jeweler. Dr. W. R. Morgan, Campbell dentist, is owner of the property.

The record industry is always quick to reflect any attitude or interest on the part of the public. With church attendance way up and books such as Peace of Mind and the Guide To Confident Living on the best seller list for many months, they are putting special emphasis on Sacred Records. Decca is using several of their most popular artists in a new Faith Series of recordings, Columbia has added a group of Sunday School Hymns to their seven-inch children's line and Victor is releasing a number of the great sacred works of Bach. Many of the smaller record companies are also adding to the rapidly growing catalogue of sacred records.

My long association with sacred music in the church has made my basis for judging these recordings different from most reviewers. I am judging solely on whether the selection meets the high standard of good sacred music and not whether the record will enjoy a popular appeal or will sell readily. In sacred music the words are most important and if the singer succeeds in making the message of the words strike home then the song is a success. All of the songs in the Decca Faith Series are old favorites, some are very well done and others fall short. Decca apparently did not realize that a singer must have a definite feeling for sacred music in order to interpret its full meaning. The recordings that satisfy my ideals for good sacred music are:

WHAT A FRIEND WE HAVE IN JESUS AND HE LEADETH ME (Decca 14500) sung by Bing Crosby with choir and organ support. Bing sings these hymns simply, straightforwardly and with deep warmth.

THE OLD RUGGED CROSS and IN THE SWEET BY AND BY (Decca 14503) the Mills Brothers with guitar accompaniment. Warm harmonizing with sincere feeling mark this offering of two of the all time favorite hymns. The guitar is unobtrusive and is used with a harp-like effect.

NOW THE DAY IS OVER and GOD BE WITH YOU (Decca 14507) by the Hamilton Quartet with organ. This is a fine quartet and they sing in a simple moving fashion, by far the best sacred singing of all.

HAVE THINE OWN WAY LORD and MY JESUS I LOVE THEE (Decca 14504) Jack Owens with choir, organ and piano. Deeply sincere performance of stirring devotional hymns.

FAVORITE SACRED SONGS (Victor WP 261) sung by Eddie Arnold. Eddie sings six sacred songs in a natural and unaffected manner. Most of the selections in this album were familiar to me but I found them quite moving. Eddie's singing of the familiar SOFTLY AND TENDERLY is the high point in this collection.

The Sunday School Hymns offered by Columbia on the seven inch children's records are packed in multicolored jackets, with attractive illustrated labels. Floyd Sherman, tenor, is the singer accompanied by an organ. These are well sung and a most welcome change from the material usually offered on the small discs. Parents will be pleased to find such excellent material for their children.

The MORMON TABERNACLE CHOIR OF SALT LAKE CITY, one of the outstanding musical organizations in the world has issued a second volume of sacred songs (Columbia ML 2098). Their Volume one contains twelve beloved hymns. Those of you who listen to their broadcast every Sunday will enjoy these recordings immensely. The JESU, WORD OF GOD INCARNATE by Mozart and the HALLELUJAH CHORUS from Beethoven's Mount of Olives are the most inspiring. Feeling as I do that the words in sacred music are so important I cannot help but wish that the diction of the choir was better. However, I realize how difficult good diction is in a choir of three hundred and seventy-five voices.

BACH: MASS IN B MINOR (Victor LM 6100) Robert Shaw conducting the RCA Victor Choral and Orchestra with soloists. This majestic work of Bach is one of the greatest pieces of church music in existence but unfortunately it has lost most of its religious appeal and now interests mainly the serious music lover. Schweitzer makes this comment, "The salient quality of the B Minor Mass is its wonderful sublimity. The first chord of the Kyrie takes us into a world of great and profound emotions; we do not

First Campbell Pet Shop Opens Soon

The first shop of its kind in Campbell, the Campbell Pet Shop, will open the doors of 54 E. Campbell Avenue, sometime before May 1, it was announced recently by Mrs. E. L. Compton, owner and proprietor of the establishment.

The pet shop replaces Tommy Blackmun's Campbell Floral Shop which has moved to 4th and Campbell Avenue.

A long-time resident of Eugene, Oregon, Mrs. Compton is experiencing her first attempt in the pet shop business, although she has raised dogs for sale in her Oregon home and has entered those of her own breeds in dog shows. She also has operated boarding kennels.

The Campbell Pet Shop will run a complete line of dog and cat accessories in addition to such regular pet supplies as fresh inspected horsemeat.

The animals will be those that are adapted to small incomes, says Mrs. Compton. Cats will include familiar breeds while dogs will be those raised by Mrs. Compton herself, and will include collies, and long and short hair chihuahuas which are raised by Mrs. Compton.

"I'm awfully pleased at the friendliness of the Campbell people," she says, "and am looking forward to working and living here."

Mrs. Compton has chosen 794 Mulberry, Campbell, for her new home.

FARMERS DON'T LIKE "DOUBLE TALK" MR. CANDIDATE

- You can't lower food costs to consumers and raise farmer's living standards at the same time without taxing both groups heavily for such a subsidy.
- You surely are not advocating the Brannan so-called PLAN for our California Farmers . . . or don't you know it doesn't provide for producers of deciduous fruits or Specialty crops WE grow!
- You are completely out of touch with farming here, Candidate Johnson, for your "Line" does not apply. Corporation Farms? Where are they . . . Our average prune grower owns only 17 acres!
- Farmers KNOW Jack Anderson fights for prunes, pears, apricots and other crops WE grow. Other California Congressmen know it too, for REPEATEDLY they choose him CHAIRMAN OF THE DELEGATION'S FARM COMMITTEE.

County Teachers Attend Workshop At Local School

Representing Santa Clara County schools, some 60 local teachers completed a three-session art workshop Thursday, April 20 at Campbell Elementary School.

Ramona Fleeson, art supervisor, for Santa Clara County School Department, and Clio Haller, commercial art consultant, were in charge of the three five-hour sessions.

The sessions were marked by a reversal of the usual teaching habits. Rather, the workshop idea was literally enforced. Teachers taking the course became "pupils" again and received instruction as they used water colors, tempera, finger paints, chalk, crayolas, block prints, clays and allied craftwork. Allotted time was frequently extended because of interest in the work, a feature of which was the introduction of music while painting. The combination is purported to have a direct effect upon each other.

Speaking of this feature, Mrs. Fleeson said, "It was almost amazing how you could stand and watch their hands moving in unison. They didn't even realize it was the effect of music that was guiding their fingers."

Francis, Freddy Stroppa in the saddle on the Campbell edition of "Francis," and Campbell Theater Manager Harold Donner, in the straw hat, is standing by to tell theater patrons that the laugh riot film, "FRANCIS," starts a three-day run at his showhouse Sunday, April 30. "Francis" in the film is a talking mule.
